ELKS' BOWLING LEAGUE SEASON WILL SOON CLOSE

Packers and Champs will Contend for Premier
Honors in Title Game

EXCITING CONTEST PROMISED

The stage is rapidly being set for the title game in the Elks' Bowling league, the second half of which came to an end last evening at the Elks' club.

The Champs and the Wahos hatched up for the honor of being in the final title clash, and the Champs lived up to their name by taking the Wahos over for two frames, thus breaking the tie which existed between the two teams, and at the same time giving the winners an opportunity to try conclusions with the Packers.

A date for the final game will be arranged for later, and it promises to be one of the real games of the season. The Champs have been rolling fine ball, and will give the Packers a run for the consolation that will be worth seeing. Before the beginning of the game last evening Capt. James Russell, on behalf of the Officers, challenged the winner on behalf of his team to three games total pins to decide the winner. The losing team to furnish a supper for members of both teams. Tuesday, March 15, was decided upon as the date for this contest and it will be "some game." It will have no bearing on the final championship contest.

In the game last night the best work for the Champs was done by W. Kuhn, Capt. Miller, J. Kuhn, Monier and Vetter, and for the Wahos by Capt. Piersol, S. Piersol, and H. A. Russell. Score and line-up:

COMPLETING PROGRAM FOR LORD MAYOR'S VISIT

Arrangements for the visit of Donal O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, to Charleroi, are rapidly being completed. Announcement will be made early in the coming week as to the place where he will speak, as well as the arrangements concerning other details of the visit. Lord Mayor O'Callaghan speaks in Pittsburgh on the 17th of March, and then appears in Charleroi on the following day. These are the only two towns in this section of Pennsylvania at which he will speak on his tour of the United States.

STRIKE OIL IN GANTZ SAND ON THOME FARM

Interest in drilling operations near Washington were increased on Thursday, when oil was struck on the Thome farm, near Coskey station, a short distance east of the county seat. The probable production has not been estimated. The drilling was suspended until Mr. Grayson, the owner, now in Texas, can be heard from. The strike was made in what has heretofore been regarded as gas territory. Just previous to this strike Mr. Grayson had drilled a well on the same farm which produced 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

ROAD BUILDING WAS ACTIVE DURING 1920

Five parallel trans-continental highways—duplates of the Lincoln Highway—would represent the highway construction completed in the various states during 1920.

Approximately 20,000 miles of new improved roads were finished, according to reports recently made available. Estimates from state highway engineers say that half again and possibly double this mileage will be completed during 1921.

Nebraska, Texas and Minnesota were among the leaders in total mileage of new construction. Nebraska built 1307.5 miles; Texas 976.59; and Minnesota 911.06. Nearly every state reports mileage under construction almost equal to the total actually finished. Many of the states were unable to submit figures on highway construction.

1921 is expected to be the greatest road building year in the history of the country. Handicaps such as scarce and high priced materials and labor shortages will be absent this year. A mild winter which tended to lessen the destruction of roads and an early spring are favorable to the road building program for 1921. Pennsylvania built 413.87 miles last year, and indications point to a better record this year.

QUIETLY WEDDED AT HOME THIS MORNING

J. Odell Bechtel and Miss Alice Mallabone were married this morning at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, 137 Fallowfield, the Rev. E. H. Greenlee, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. After a short wedding trip the young couple will return to Charleroi and make their home for the present at 137 Fallowfield avenue.

STRIKE HEAVY GASSER NEAR WASHINGTON

The Watters well in South Franklin township, this county, where a strike of gas was made on Wednesday, was reported last night to be making 8,000,000 cubic feet daily. It was drilled by the Manufacturers' Light and Heat company.

Strong Cast of Players For "Fi-Fi" Presentation

"Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop," the musical extravaganza which is to be given at the high school auditorium next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, for the benefit of the library of that institution, is progressing very finely, and with abundant enthusiasm among the participants. The story, which affords many opportunities for interesting stage work, is as follows: Lonnie, the toymaker's daughter, wandering in the wood at the close of day, is overtaken by the Sandman, who casts her into a magic sleep. She dreams a wonderful dream, wherein the bisque and wooden creatures of the toy shop come to life, and many strange adventures befall herself and toys, before the morning light scatters the charm. The following cast will represent the different parts:

Bonnie, the Toymaker's daughter, Miss Winifred Phillips.
The Sandman, Orman Morgan.
Tack Hammer, the toymaker, Edward Aubrey Daniel.
Aurelia, a witch, Miss Evelyn Warrensford.

Lieutenant Tim Heart, a soldier, J. W. H. Chipman.
Fi-Fi, a Parisian doll, Miss Blanche Allison.

Prince Lolly Pop, a gentleman doll, Hardie Albright.

Captain Barnacle, a sailor doll, Harold Toner.

Loosey, a rag doll, Miss Edith Jenkins.

Ink Spot, a colored doll, Miss Mary Welch.

A laughing doll, Miss Annette Stevenson.

A Talking Doll, Miss Elizabeth Eason.

The Man in the Moon, Walter Stroud.

Bo-Pop, a singing doll, Miss Edith Riley.

Aurelia, the Fairy, Miss Catherine Johnson.

Japanese Doll, Miss Annetta Carson.

Clowns, Norman Dese and Ralph Achison.

The reservation of seats will begin at four o'clock, Monday afternoon, at the high school building.

RAILROAD COMPANY DROPS MORE MEN

Announcement was made this morning that 61 additional freight brakemen would be laid off on the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. A falling off in freight traffic is responsible for this further cut in the operating forces of the division.

It is said the Pennsylvania Railroad has 1290 idle railroad engines at various points along its lines, an increase of more than 100 during the past week. Decrease in freight traffic is given as the cause of this idleness. The railroad companies generally are not only asking for a reduction in wages, but likewise are greatly reducing their forces in order, as they say, to make their income equal their operating expenses. However, it is anticipated that when the lake coal trade opens there will be a material increase in the number of men employed on the various divisions.

COUNTY POOR DIRECTORS SEEKING RE-ELECTION

R. C. Buchanan and Mrs. Lillian M. Lane at present members of the Washington county board of poor directors, are seeking re-election, and are asking the support of Republican cans at the primaries September 20. Mrs. Lane is the first woman to make an active canvass for a county office since equal franchise was granted. She was appointed poor director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband, William E. Lane.

SPEERS TAXATION IS TWENTY-SIX MILLS

BAIL SECURED BY ACCUSED OFFICERS

Police circles of Monessen were somewhat excited Wednesday evening when a constable from Greensburg arrived in that town for the purpose of serving warrants on three members of the force, found guilty at a recent trial, of assault and battery on charges brought by Ralph Bearer of Monessen.

It was learned that the councilmen who had furnished bail for the accused became of the opinion that all was not well, since they were so willing to make a settlement in favor of Mr. Bearer, and as a result they decided to lift the bail and allow the men to be taken into custody. It is alleged that the bail was taken down without the knowledge of the officers and county authorities on once discovered that the case was still on the docket and that the prisoners must be delivered to the sheriff or the bail renewed.

However, after some effort the officers succeeded in securing bail and are still on duty. In the meantime efforts are being made to secure a settlement out of court.

BRINGS SUIT TO COLLECT REWARD

Suit has been entered in the Fayette county courts by Fred Holder, of Fayette City, to collect the reward offered by the county and by Perry township, for the arrest and conviction of the one responsible for the numerous fires which occurred in that county during November and December. Holder claims to have caused the arrest of Albert Smith and had him committed to jail. The amount involved is $6,000.

Capt. J. H. Smith, United States Army, is spending a few days with friends in Charleroi. His company was used as special guards during the inauguration of President Harding.

ALL OBSTACLES REMOVED FROM ROAD CONSTRUCTION

RAILROAD FINDS NEW USE FOR EQUIPMENT

A new use for equipment that ordinarily stands idle on Sundays has been developed in the Central Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Although in the past the excursion season has been confined principally to the Spring and Summer months, Sunday excursions to points of interest on the system are now being conducted with passenger equipment ordinarily used only in week-day service. Several excursions, which have already been conducted, have proved so popular that plans are being made to extend the program in that regard.

CONSOLIDATION IS FAVORED BY SOME

At the council meeting of Speers borough, held last night, the question of consolidation with Charleroi was informally discussed by the members. It developed that there is quite a little sentiment in the borough in favor of this proposition, but council members expressed a fear that such a consolidation would place the outlying districts would not be given that consideration in the way of representation to which they justly believe they would be entitled. However, proponents of the plan were also of the opinion that representation would be a matter of detail that could be satisfactorily adjusted, once the consolidation took place. There were those who were of the opinion that it would be for the betterment of the community if the two boroughs were under one form of government, with a view of lessening running expenses, and with the opportunity of securing greater efficiency in government.

ROAD APPROPRIATIONS CUT BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Sprout on Friday cut $3,200,000 from the State highway appropriation of $13,280,000 for constructing state roads and providing for ordinary expenses of the department. The reason ascribed for the action by the Governor was lack of state revenue. The appropriations committee lopped off $2,200,000 from the two bills when they were presented to the legislature.

Council of Speers Approves Plans and Specifications for the Highway

ACTION WILL BE CERTIFIED

What is believed to have been the final obstruction in the way of the permanent improvement of the Speers Coal Center road was removed last night, when the borough council of Speers, by a unanimous vote, decided to accept the plans and specifications of the State Highway Department for the building of this important stretch of highway. The President and Secretary of council will now certify the action of the borough legislature to the State Highway Department, and thus set the stage for the advertising of bids for the work.

There has been some division of opinion among the members of the Speers council regarding the plans and specifications for the improvement of this road, and this has caused the State to withhold any action toward beginning this very much desired improvement. However, of late, due to activity promoted by the newly organized Chamber of Commerce of Charleroi, the question assumed a new phase, and the council members of Speers were approached on the subject.

At the meeting held last night there was an interchange of opinion, which finally resulted in a vote being taken on the proposition and it was unanimous in favor of the plans as submitted by the State. As soon as the Highway department receives the certification, given by the President and Secretary, over the seal of the borough, it is likely that some definite steps will be taken toward placing this stretch of highway between Speers and Allenport, and possibly Roscoe, under contract. At any rate, prospects for building the road are now brighter than ever.

INDICT COUNCILMEN FOR BAD STREETS

Completing its work for the March term, the grand jury of Greene county submitted its report to the court. Among the indictments returned was one against the members of the borough council of Greensboro, for failure to keep the streets of the town in repair.

Named in the indictment were Samuel Black, Harry Baer, Jesse Mallory, George Neil, E. O. Davis and Lee Byrne. They were charged with neglect of duty, the court proceedings being the outgrowth of agitation started by citizens.

CENSORSHIP FOR THE MOVIES

The question of a censorship for moving pictures is strongly in the foreground in Washington. Advocates of the rigid application of this resolution urge that the motion picture producers are not elevating the class of their attractions, and all sorts of social maladies are laid at the door of the popular entertainment houses. Opponents of the censorship idea urge that it is no more possible to regulate the character of the picture productions by this process than it would be to prescribe what newspapers should print, or what should constitute fiction in books. The Pennsylvania plan is being discussed as a probable solution. It lays down the rule that no picture shall deal with certain defined immoral subjects, or the drug habit, or the method of operation of criminals, such as murder, housebreaking, safe-robbing, hanging, counterfeiting, etc. Vulgarities that are obnoxious are also defined. The standards, rather than the censorship of Pennsylvania are being pointed to as safe methods for guidance of picture operators. They define what is common decency in pictures to an extent that almost approaches the care and caution that is ordinarily used by that great army of responsible men and women, in the land, who write for the newspapers and periodicals.

A KING'S "FELLOW CITIZENS."

Whether the World War's results made the entire planet safe for democracy or not, they undoubtedly caused a perceptible forwarding of the democratic principle in many quarters. Take the recent speech from the British throne as an example. It is not so long since that uninteresting production invariably referred to "my subjects" in truly medieval fashion, yet King George's address at the opening of Parliament the other day spoke feelingly of the distress which unemployment had brought to hundreds of "our fellow citizens." The use of "fellow citizen" has been common so long in the United States, and even in France that the revolutionaries of our day, scoffing at the alleged freedom of these "so called" republics, have seen fit to substitute "comrade" in its stead, but until now it has rarely if ever passed the lips of a king.

Edward VII is said to have predicted that his son now occupying the throne would be the last king to be seen in England, but naturally King George would prefer the expected revolution to be still further delayed so that his son, that nice young man, the present Prince of Wales, may have his chance to don the purple in turn and see what he can do to keep the old order going. So King George, reading the signs of the times, would seem to wish to accommodate himself to the newer spirit moving among the people. Such at least appears to be the explanation of his substitution of "fellow citizens" for "my subjects" a departure from precedent that would have infuriated the earlier Georges and greatly disturbed even that estimable old lady, Queen Victoria.

HANDICAPPED RICHINGS.

A contributor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger names a number of millionaires' sons who "are merely ornaments, or rather parasites, toiling not for spinning, but leading lives of luxury and idleness." Among these he includes one to a certain extent included the Vanderbilts, only one of whom "amounts to anything," James A. Stillman, who is not of his father's calibre; the present H. H. Rogers, who "must be relatively little figure in the business world;" Allan Ryan, the Goulds, the Geulets and the Whitneys, the representatives of the two families last named being distinguished as sportsmen. Among millionaires' sons who, on the other hand, are achieving through their own initiative, are named Vincent Astor, the Harrimans, Mortimer L. Shif, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and J. Ogden Armour.

Possibly the last named profited by early taking to heart the admonition his father is said to have given him: "You must never forget that you have to take off the curse of being a rich man's son." Perhaps the younger Rockefeller, who has made his own way and won respect, also early saw the need of personal effort, for only recently he was quoted as saying that his father's life was enviable in comparison with his own because his father "had to make his own way." Perhaps the chief reason why so many rich men's sons fail of individual achievement is that, thinking they can afford to do so, they choose the easiest and most pleasurable way. Doubtless they are more exposed to temptation of this sort than even the sons of kings, for too often they are indulged by their parents to an extent that princes in modern times rarely are. Doubtless it is harder for the rich man's son than for the average young man to resist the absorbing social whirl, "scorn delights and live laborious days."

STEADY MARCHING.

A number of newspapers who want the United States to go into the league of nations are just now filling their columns with war scares. Neither Mr. Harding nor the Republican Congress looks easy to stampede.

CONSOLATION.

We are not much in favor of war, but on reflection we can't think of any of our foreign wars that we regret nor can we think of any that would have left the world better if they had not been fought.

In 1920 Americans consumed sugar to the extent of 92 pounds per capita, the whole country's consumption exceeding that of 1919 by a billion pounds. The new home-brewing industry eats up sugar with a gargantuan appetite.

The French say "it is me" (c'est moi), but that is hardly a sufficient reason for authorities of Chicago public schools to defy the "it is I" rule of the English-speaking world's grammarians.

Air mail from New York to San Francisco in 33 hours—25 hours and 52 minutes of actual flying time—is a truly marvelous achievement.

AMENDMENT TO ENFORCEMENT ACT

The enforcement bill introduced in the House at Harrisburg by Representative William H. Martin, of Allegheny county, was on Thursday referred back to the law and order committee for amendment. The correction to be made is one referring to the minimum fine of $100 which was printed in the bill as $1,000. It was expected Martin would make the amendment on the floor of the House, but instead he ordered the bill back.

In view of the difficulties encountered in the law and order committee where sentiment is evidently divided, members were wondering what the next step in the history of the Anti-Saloon bill will be.

The bill was reported out after three attempts to obtain a quorum, and was scheduled to come up for final action early next week. It may be that Martin is waiting for sentiment in the House to crystallize on the question before permitting it to be acted upon.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE FARM BUREAU

The Washington County Farm Bureau has announced that the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held in the public meeting room of the court house next Wednesday, March 16 beginning at 11 o'clock a. m.

The program will consist chiefly of a discussion of the work of the Farm Bureau, particularly that to be taken up during the present year, and suggestions have been invited from every community, as to the work they desire.

Another question before the Pennsylvania farmer is that of Federating the Farm Bureau, as has been done practically all of the Western and surrounding Eastern states. H. P. Miller, an active farmer and member of the executive committee of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, will be present to discuss this topic.

F. P. Weaver, of State College, Assistant Director of the Extension Work in Pennsylvania, will be present and discuss the work being carried on throughout the state.

A large representation of those interested in the work of the Farm Bureau is hoped for at this meeting.

GETTING READY FOR LAKE COAL SHIPMENTS

In order to expedite the movement of coal to ports on the Great Lakes when the lake shipping reopens this Spring, the Pennsylvania Railroad is loading now the lake boats tied up for the winter at Cleveland, Erie, Ashtabula and Sandusky. Through the co-operation of shippers this plan is being carried out for the first time, this year. It will enable the lake boats to move coal cargoes aggregating about 200,000 tons as soon as the lake ports are again opened for shipping.

Normally, about 28,000,000 tons of coal are delivered by the railroads at the lake ports during the shipping season. Most of the coal is destined for Duluth for industrial uses and railroad fuel in interior points in the northwest, about 200 coal boats being engaged in the traffic. The Pennsylvania Railroad carries approximately 20 per cent of the coal, principally from the Central Region of the system. Under the new arrangements, made by the railroad with coal shippers, a great deal of the congestion and delay attending the movement of coal when the lake shipping season opens will be avoided.

ATHLETIC LEAGUE IS PLANNED BY STEEL WORKS

The Donora Steel Works Athletic Association has been formed to give impetus to things athletic in the big steel town and among the men employed at the plants there. Baseball will be the first outdoor sport to receive attention and it is anticipated there will be several good amateur teams in the big steel town during the coming summer.

MARCH 15TH IS LAST DAY TO PAY INCOME TAX

March 15th is the last day to pay income tax, and those who have put off making out their returns had better get busy, else Uncle Sam may be camping on their trails during the coming summer. There is no escape, as all employers are required to make a return to the government, showing to whom, and how much, they paid employees.

NEGLECTED COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

Doctors advise that a neglected cold is the source of much serious trouble. Colds should be treated at once, for then it is easy to stop them developing. Just one application of Turpo, the Turpentine Ointment, gets right through the skin and membrane to the source of the trouble and treats the cold right at the very root, giving immediate relief.

Turpo is a scientific combination of distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol: remedies which medical experience shows to be the most effective for the treatment of all kinds of colds and congestion. Turpo is a salve or ointment, clear and pleasant smelling. It does not stain the finest fabric, nor blisters the tenderest skin. When applied it has a soothing, healing effect. It is especially useful for the treatment of children's colds and sore throat. The merits of Turpo are now so well known that over 150,000 jars are sold annually.

Ask your own doctor about Turpo. He will tell you what a useful remedy it is. Your own druggist sells it on a guarantee of money back if not entirely satisfactory.

952 Franklin Cars Shipped in February

Sales Keeping Up to High Level at Syracuse Factory. Business for the month of February as reported by the Franklin Automobile company of Syracuse show that sales are keeping up to a high level. By February 15 the entire month's production had been sold, and to meet the over-demand the factory was called upon for 100 more cars than planned for. Shipments for the month totaled 952 cars, or within 35 cars of the best February in the company's history—this occurring last year. A new record would have been hung up this year but for the fact that February, 1921 had one less day than February, 1920.

Even with the Franklin factory working on a 40-car-per-day program, which is the present rate of production, it found itself unable to keep up with orders. During February the total number of orders received aggregated 1107, and even the 952-car output fell short of filling orders for February shipment by 155 cars. The manufacturing schedule for March calls for the production of 1031 cars.

STATE MAKES NEW RULE ON AUTO TAGS

Notices that residents of Pennsylvania must have Pennsylvania tags if they intend to operate motor cars in this state have been given by Ben G. Eynon, the state registrar, as the result of investigations made by state inspectors who have discovered some people have been operating cars in different states with only one set of tags. Cars have been found coming into Pennsylvania from adjoining states oftener than once a week, and they will be stopped and owners forced to get Pennsylvania tags, while Pennsylvanians who have been doing the same thing in other states will be rounded up.

During February more than 3,000 violators of the motor vehicle laws occurred and 62 persons arrested for overloading vehicles.

BIG BUICK CAR WAS WRECKED NEAR DONORA

A big red Buick touring car bearing license number 380-674, was wrecked on the improved road between Donora and Monongahela some time last night. The accident happened near Americo park, just below the Donora borough line. It is not known how the accident occurred, but the machine was catapulted off the highway, across the street railway track and down over an embankment into the ball field. The car was badly broken up.

MODERN DOLL WORK OF ART

Children of the Long Ago Were Satisfied With Very Ordinary Counterparts of Nature.

It is interesting to contrast the plump, really truly looking American doll of today with the crude, legless, long-armed wooden dolls with which the little Egyptian girls used to play. These Egyptian dolls had wooden hair and funny long arms that reached almost to the knees and they never had any feet at all, says the Boston Post. For clothes all there ever was for them to wear was just a strip of cotton cloth wound round and round their bodies like a bandage.

Worse than that, the poor little Mohammedan children had to play with headless dolls because the queer rulings of their religion would not allow of any imitation of the human figure. Biblical children, Esther and Ruth, probably played with wooden dolls very much like the Egyptian dolls, aever a bit more beautiful.

Queen Elizabeth had a doll made of tree bark. It was said to be 250 years old before it came into her possession and since she died it has never been located.

Dolls began to get better about that period and Mary Queen of Scots owned a collection of dolls that would move their arms and legs, they being operated with springs. As early as 1413 came dolls with voices that would speak. Wires came in 1820 and walking dolls in 1825, but they were all over and unimproved compared to the delightful "Lacina" "papa" talking, stinking, winky-eyed, real curly-haired dolls that the little American girl can have for her very own children.

JUNGLE MONARCH "BIG GAME"

Tiger Can Always Be Relied On to Furnish Sport for the Most Adventurous Hunter.

The tiger is one variety of game which is in no danger of extermination. Tigers have been hunted for centuries. They furnished sport to the ancient Romans, both in the arena where they faced the gladiators and in the open field. Before that, they were the game of great Egyptian monarchs. It is doubtful whether primitive man was able to kill the tiger at all.

Today tigers are comparatively easy game for the wealthy sportsmen who hunt them with the great double-barreled English rifles carrying express bullets. A great crowd of beaters usually assists at the sport, and drives the tiger into the open, though occasionally he is killed by watching at the carcass of an animal he has killed. Occasionally a tiger kills a hunter, but not often. In India and also in Korea many unarmed and half-naked natives are killed by tigers every year. In the war between men and tigers it is hard to say which is winning.

Tigers are found in almost all parts of the continent of Asia, from the tropical jungles of India to the almost arctic heights of the mountains in Siberia and northern China.

The Africa and Orient Review, a South African newspaper, has started a beauty contest for dusky belles and already 300 entries have been received for the competition. The editor, Mr. Mohamed Ali, thus describes the negress face: "The eyes," he said, "should have the African expression, a soft, appealing look—an intangible dreaminess, never seen in European eyes. The nose should be semi-aquiline, slightly squat at the bridge, and the lips somewhat thicker than those of the average European, a characteristic which I think gives solidity to the expression. The hair should, of course, be curly." Photographs of the competitors will be reproduced each month, and the readers of the journal will be asked to vote for the photograph they consider the most beautiful, the lady receiving the greatest number of votes to be given $500. The second prize is $250 and the third a watch bracelet.

World's Longest Car Ferry.

The new railway ferry line, which is being planned to run between England and Sweden, will be the longest in the world. A tremendous ferry boat with engines furnishing about 12,000 horse-power is to travel daily between the two countries, bearing upon its huge decks freight trains 45 cars in length. Besides this there will be provisions for taking travelers from the first to the fourth class, together with dining rooms, promenades and other agreeable features. The journey requires 33 hours. After arriving on land the freight train at once proceeds upon the English or Swedish tracks, as the case may be. It is obvious that a tremendous saving both in time and in labor can be thus accomplished.

New Pictures by Radio.

"Very interesting and very important," is the way Marconi recently expressed himself regarding the transmission of photographs by radio. It appears that several systems of this kind are being worked out at present. "I have not followed the experiments, but I know it can be done," continued Marconi. "Pictures were sent over telegraph wires several years ago, and what can be done by wire can be done by wireless. It will be of great interest to watch the progress made. The two chief uses to which the discovery can be put are the quick transmission of photographs for newspaper and police purposes."—Scientific

Youthful Joys.

If dryads ever do, the special dwellings it must have been within the boles of walnut trees. If the tree was unknown to old Hellen, then the gods forgot something essential to the happiness of youth. If the successors of Pericles and all the heroes of the golden age did not betimes go adventuring for walnuts, acquiring burrs and stone-bruises, then they never knew the joy that comes to the Middle Western lad, who each falling year bears home their treasures to spread on the old kitchen roof to dry.—Exchange.

In Regard to Style.

If a person admires a particular method of arranging words, that arrangement will occur naturally in his own diction, without malice aforethought. Some writers unconsciously fall into the mode of expression adopted by others. This illustrates a similarity of disposition, and is not imitation. As a style, when it is natural, comes rather from the heart than the head, men of similar tastes and feelings will be likely to fall into a similar form of expression.—Edwin P. Whipple.

Bells Worn by Priests.

Innumerable and interesting are the traditions surrounding bells. Bells, or substitutes thereof, have ever played an important part in religious ceremonies. In the books of Exodus and Ecclesiastes the ornaments of the high priest's ephod include bells, so that "their sound might be heard whenever he goeth in or cometh out of the sanctuary." Their use in the eastern church obtains even to this day, bells being found as they were of old on the fringe of priestly garments.

Halloween Superstitions.

In the north of England the country people were so afraid of evil spirits coming to earth on Halloween that they built huge fires and stood on guard to see that no witches sneaked in around the flames. Some even believed if they braided straw, fastened it to a pitch fork, then set it on fire and waved it in the air, they could ward off the attacks of witches.

It is a fact that there are fish which cannot swim. A Brazilian fish, called the maltha, can only crawl, walk or hop. It has a long, upturned snout, and resembles to some extent a toad. The anterior fins of the maltha are quite small and are not suitable for use in the water. They are in reality thin paws which are of no service for swimming.—Dearborn Independent.

"Scot Free."

To get off scot free is to escape without payment of tax. Scot was a tribute or tax levied upon all subjects according to their ability to pay; lot means the allotment or portion allotted to you, so that to pay scot and lot is to pay the ordinary taxes and also the personal tax allotted to you. If you succeed in evading the tax you got off scot free.

Paint Brush's Many Uses.

Nothing is better to take dust down the stairs than a good paint brush. It removes the dust from the corner niche of each step, brushes between the stair railings of moldings in a way no cloth can possibly do. Indeed a medium size paint brush of about four inches width has many uses in the house.

Whitening Piano Keys.

Yellowed piano keys are sometimes whitened to a certain extent by leaving the piano open every day, exposing the keys to the light. Another treatment is to lay on the keys a paste of whitening and a solution of potash, allowing it to remain for twenty-four hours.—Housewife.

The Chinese Years.

Like our own leap year, every third year in China is longer than its predecessors, but the Chinese add a whole month, instead of an extra day, to make up for the time lost, according to their calculation of the calendar.

Once Is Enough.

"Motorists," says a London magistrate, "cannot go about knocking people down and killing them every day." We agree. Once should be enough for the most grasping pedestrian.—London Punch.

Moving-Picture Films.

Of the average moving picture film, 50 to 75 prints are made, but in the case of one of the most popular ones as many as 250 to 275 prints have sometimes been required.

Drying Shoes.

To dry wet shoes quickly stuff them with paper and put near the fire, though not close enough for the leather to burn.

Cultivate Brevity.

If you would be pungent be brief, for it is with words as with sunburns—the more they are condensed the deeper they burn.—Southey.

Just Like a Man.

The average man thinks he sweeps them up when he scatters with a flirt of his handkerchief the cigar ashes he drops on the floor.—Buffalo Enquirer.

A Cynicism.

The two keys to success are luck and pluck; luck in finding someone to pluck.—Life.

On Reading.

And choose an author as you choose a friend.—Bacon.

PECULIAR FREAK OF NATURE

Section of Land in California Has Trees Unknown Anywhere Else, Save in One Small Spot.

Down in San Diego county, is a grove of Torrey pines less than two miles broad and eight miles long, thinly scattered, that occur nowhere else in the world except about 100 trees on the eastern end of Santa Rosa Island, many miles to the north and out in the ocean. All who have read of coaching or motoring in southern California know of the famous cypress drive near Monterey. Strange indeed is this great head of land jutting out into the ocean between Carmel bay and Monterey harbor, for it forms an isolated arboreal island, the Monterey cypress being but one of its peculiarities. The Monterey pine grows there, and is not found again except sixty miles to the north and seventy miles to the south. The Bishop's pine occurs (or recurs) only eighty-five miles to the north and eighty miles to the south. The Goven cypress recurs on the coast 216 miles northward.

Curious place for trees, this Monterey headland! We have so many tales to tell of curious native trees, however, that one more must suffice. Down at Garden Grove and Santa Ana, both in Orange county, stand five trees that are natural hybrids between the native live oak and the native black walnut, and man had nothing to do with this jugglery.—Los Angeles Times.

GREAT SOLDIER'S KINDLY ACT

Duke of Wellington Not Above Taking Care of Toad Which Was Small Boy's Pet.

The Duke of Wellington, while strolling about his estate one day, came upon a small boy, the son of a gardener, down on his knees before a hole, and with tears running down his face. The boy explained that his pet toad lived in the hole, and that he fed him every day, the toad knowing him and following him about the garden. School was to open the next day in a distant town, and the lad was afraid his toad would starve to death. "Not at all, not at all," assured the great leader. "I'll look after your toad myself." The boy got up at once, and the two gravely shook hands. The Duke was as good as his word, and went several times a week to the hole with a handful of crumbs, and the toad soon transferred his affection to his grace. This so tickled the soldier that he wrote the boy a letter telling him of the pet's actions, but expressing the belief that when the boy returned the toad would go back to his first affection.

High temperatures seem, very curiously, to retard the ripening of pears, while hastening that of apples. In experiments described by Overholser and Taylor in the Botanical Gazette, the ripening of green first-crop Bartlett pears raised from 70 degrees F. or room temperature, to 85 degrees was not affected, but at 87.7 degrees it was delayed five days, and at 94 degrees and 104 degrees the delay was 13 days. Second-crop Bartlett pears, in a temperature of 101 degrees, and surrounded by a relative humidity of below 50 per cent, remained unripe four weeks after similar pears at room temperature and humidity had become fully ripened. The flavor of pears kept above 85 degrees was affected, sweetness and juiciness being diminished. The ripening of Yellow Newton apples on the other hand, was hastened at every appreciable rise in temperature from 50 degrees up to the point of destruction by burning. It is concluded that the picking of pears may be delayed in very hot weather, but that the picking of apples and storage in a cool place must be hastened.

Barnstable's Old Bell.

In the courthouse at Barnstable, Mass., is an old bell, cracked and silent, which may be, and probably is, the oldest bell in the United States. So thinks Mr. Alfred Crocker, clerk of courts of Barnstable county. The date 1675 is still plainly visible in the photograph recently printed in the Boston Evening Transcript.

By this date, however, the old bell had seen nearly a quarter of a century of life in England before it came to America and began calling worshippers together in the church at Sandwich town. Gratitude bought the bell in England, for it came as a gift from Mrs. Peter Adolph, whose husband, Captain Adolph, was lost in the wreck of his vessel on the Massachusetts coast in 1697 despite the efforts of the people of Sandwich.

A Fair Week.

A man lately kept a meteorological diary of his wife's temper. It ran somewhat as follows:

"Monday—Rather cloudy; in the afternoon, rainy."
"Tuesday—Vaporish; brightened up a little towards evening."
"Wednesday—Changeable, gloomy, inclined to rain."
"Thursday—High wind, and some peals of thunder."
"Friday—Fair in the morning; variable till the afternoon; cloudy at night."
"Saturday—A gentle breeze, hazy; afternoon, a thick fog, and a few flashes of lightning."
"Sunday—Tempestuous and rainy; toward evening rather calmer."—London

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

Caused by Woman's Ills and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I was troubled with pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different doctors and not getting relief, I had almost given up hopes when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and knowing that she had really been helped by it, I purchased it. I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four months old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen. I am willing for my letter to be used for a testimonial to tell other suffering women how much your medicine has done for me, as I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise."—Mrs. BLAIR L. FISHER, R.D.1, Box 57, Grafton, Pa.

Working early and late—lifting, carrying, and the heaviest of household duties—is any wonder that it results in backaches and kindred ills. But every woman who suffers as Mrs. Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.
